

Helping Parents Help Their Children

Engaging Parents and Family Members

NJPC is offering one day training for professionals and providers in the child-serving arena. The workshop will explore engagement strategies and barriers, history and principles of family involvement, and specific strategies for high-risk families and urban families. The curriculum includes Building Consensus & Collaboration with Parents and Family Members, Critical Elements of Family Engagement, The Impact of Community on Family Engagement, Family-Specific Strategies, and Recruitment & Retention. Professionals attending the training are given the opportunity to strengthen their knowledge of family engagement strategies for specific communities and will receive practical examples of tools and strategies which they can implement in their local organizations, creating better collaboration which will result in improved outcomes for children and families.

Participants will be asked to return for an additional training date (6 months later-no fee) to discuss successes, challenges and explore strategies utilized in their individual organizations. Lunch will be served. Each class is five hours in length. Participants need only attend one initial class. Early registration is recommended as class size will be limited. Flyer is attached for your review.
